ANNOUNCEMENT

We are authorized to announce Judge J. W. Henson as a candidate for Congress from the Second district, subject to the action of the democratic party.

A Busy Evening

"Somehow," said the Gynic, "somehow I don't get the right perspective on this moving picture business. I went to a show last night."

"What was the trouble?" asked the Interested Friend, "too solemn or too exciting?"

"Oh, the pictures were all right," said the Gynic, "but the accompaniments! I got too much for my money. The young lady at the piano played the latest violin virtuoso waltz in G, her pale-faced violin virtuoso insisted on stabbing into her melody every other note—playing in C. The small boy just back of me kicked my chair in an entirely different time, and breathed peppermint flavored zephyrs down my neck.
A two hundred and fifty pound lady squeezed by in front of me, using one of my feet for a stepping stone and the young man to my right, having seen the picture, insisted on telling me what was coming next, and the electric fan stirred up ninety-six different kinds of perfume all based on that sandal-wood cachou-de-cayed-violet aroma the girls are so fond of now. So," ended the Gynic, with a sigh, "when the operator flashed 'One minute, please' on the screen, I arose and insured him he could have the entire evening to his self as far as I was concerned."

FOREST NOTES

The annual capacity of the forest nurseries of the government

Claude Morton UNDER TAKER

Center St. Madisonville, Ky is about 25 million young trees.

Cornell University recently dedicated a forestry building in connection with the state college of agriculture.

It is said that the best times of day to see forest fires from lookout stations are just after dawn and just before sunset.

The forest service has been requested to cooperate with the port authorities of Cape Bay, Washington, in planting to control shifting sands.

Jack pine trees planted ten years ago in the sand hills of Nebraska are now large enough to produce fence posts. Last year the first seed was gathered from these plantations.

The agricultural experiment station at Pullman, Washington, is establishing an arboretum in which it is proposed to grow a group of trees of the temperate zone.

Everybody Reads

Everybody reads the newspapers these days. We are a nation of readers.

We read the daily papers for the world's news of the day, for the market reports, for the works of our legislators in national and state capitals.

But we read the LOCAL PAPER for the news which comes straight home to us—the news which is necessary to our growing intelligence—which is an essential part of our being.

We read the LOCAL PAPER because it alone can keep us in close touch with local affairs of moment —with our neighbors and the community—with conditions which are of prime importance to us.

We read the LOCAL PAPER because without it we would be practically strangers in our own homes, because we would be living in ignorance of those happenings of which local conditions make it imperative that we be constantly informed.

Present day necessity requires that we read the papers, and ESPECI-ALLY THE LOCAL PAPER.

Get The Habit

Get the habit of looking before you buy.

Get the habit of knowing when to look, and when to look.

It is a habit that will save you many dollars in the run of a year.
As a habit, it is one of the principal keys to success in life.

Study the advertising pages of your local paper each week.

Study them with a two-fold purpose—the determining of what goods to buy, and where to find them.

If a local merchant spends money in advertising his wares, it is safe to assume that he is able to make good on every statement that he makes.

It is also safe to assume that the home man will do more for you than a stranger will do. It is his war, and it is a war which should appeal to you.

Get the habit of giving the home man the first chance.

It is a habit of which any person should justly feel proud.

It is a GOOD habit.

MAYOR BEN BOSSE AT THE HELM

EVANSVILLE CHIEF EXECUTIVE PERSONALLY HANDLING DE-TAILS OF CELEBRATION.

Turnfest-German Day Event to Be Gala Affair.

Evansville, Ind.

Nearly all inhabitants within a radius of 150 miles have their eyes focussed on this city just now.

The activities of the executive committee having in charge the details of the Turnfest-German Day celebration to be given here June 27th, 28th and 29th, is the magnet that is attracting most attention.

A three-day festival is planned: Beginning with the athletic contests, Saturday, June 27, and concluding with the magnificent fire works display on the Ohio River Monday night, June 29, not a dull hour will be experienced. It will be one continuous round of merriment and pleasure lasting three whole days.

For many years Germania Day has been held here during September and always assumed the aspects of a Fall or Harvest festival more than anything else. This year the local German societies agreed to combine their annual celebration with that of the German Gymnastic Association. The dates mentioned above were mutually agreed upon and the affair named Turnfest-German Day.

This arrangement made it necessary that far more elaborate plans be perfected than were ever before attempted by either one of these organizations separately. This meant work and the expert handling of a multitude of intricate details. Who was the man for the job—who measured up to the requirements? These questions would not down. Some man of broad, liberal views and unusual business qualifications was needed for the task—but who?

BENJAMIN BOSSE,
Mayor of Evansville.

After due consideration it was determined that the city's chief executive was the best man for the task.
His services were available for the purpose. To his genius as an organizer and his untiring efforts could be attributed the successful German days of the past down years. Accordingly, a delegation representing the two organizations called upon Mayor Bosse and informed him of their considerations and urged upon him the necessity of assuming charge as president of the executive committee.

Mr. Bosse is a man of active business connections and scarcely a minute of his time is ever wasted.

He stated his willingness to render every possible aid but pleaded that it was very nearly a human impossibility for him to assume other duties, and to do justice to all his obligations.

The delegation was opposed to taking "no" for an answer.

As a compromise, Mr. Bosse consented to act as "honorary president." This was agreed to, because it was well understood that once Mr. Bosse becomes interested in any project he cannot help but inject into it his remarkable individuality and vigorous personality. It's a habit with him and invariably spells success for his efforts.

From that date the affairs of the Turnfest-German Day celebration have moved rapidly and smoothly. Precision, promptness and progress characterize every move made. Success is assured beyond the possibility of dispute—Ben Bosse is at the helm.

Benjamin Bosse typifies the successful young American. He is not yet 40 years of age, and is a living example of what it is possible to achieve through aiming high and working hard. Born on a farm and of that sturdy German stock whose efforts have made the prairies of the Central West yield untold millions in bountiful crops, he is today a man of big affairs, both industrially and com-mercially.

He is president of the Globe-Horse-World Furniture Co., president of the West Side Bank, Mayor of Evansville and connected in various capacities with other enterprises too numerous to mention.
